

THE MAGICAL SNAIL

By: Hannah Kwok

Once upon a time, there was a kind snail called Magical Snail. It could fly in the big blue sky where there were no cars or trains. Magical Snail had shining blue eyes. Magical Snail also had talking books. Magical Snail's best friend was Molly the dragonfly, she was one year old. Magical Snail lived with his mum, dad, and little sister, but he had a problem, he didn't know why he couldn't teach other snails how to fly even though he could. So he found Cookie the dragonfly. Cookie gave him a banana. After he ate the banana, he could teach other snails how to fly.

One year passed, all the snails could fly except Mango. Mango was the smallest snail and he was afraid to fly so high. On Mango's birthday, Magical Snail knew Mango was big enough to fly in the sky. So Magical Snail thought of some good ideas. He gave Mango a magical cake. One hour later, Mango said, "I want to fly in the sky!" So Magical Snail taught Mango how to fly.

One afternoon, Magical Snail went to find Molly. Molly met him in the sky. Molly wanted Magical Snail to fly to other places to eat some sweet food. They flew for one whole day. They were so happy that they found some mangos on a tree. They were very yummy. When they flew back to their home where they lived, they met a bee named Banana. Banana was so shy that it didn't say hello to Magical Snail or Molly. When they came back to their living place, they saw many fruits in a tree. Magical Snail was happy that he could eat sweet food any time he liked.
